

The Blood Connection
Greenville, SC

The Blood Connection (TB) is a non-profit blood program, locally governed by a volunteer Board of Trustees comprised of area business and civic leaders and physicians. TBC collects, processes and distributes biologic products and services for local and regional hospitals as well as for blood centers and hospitals throughout the United States. Centralization of donor recruitment, blood collection and inventory management reduces waste, prevents delayed surgeries and provides efficiencies and economies of scale.

Creative Architectural Solutions teamed up with Chute Gerdeman design to produce an efficient and appealing environment for TBC. The program was important in ensuring a smooth donor process, while the interior décor needed to be calming and peaceful. The final product was very well received and more locations are planned for the future.
